Winds cause $40,000 damage to new store

Construction schedule set back

Construction at the new Home Hardware store in Minden suffered a setback last week. High winds Tuesday night sent newly installed trusses over the showroom portion of the store crashing into the interior. Most of the trusses were either broken or twisted beyond use.

According to store owner John Pentney Sr., the damage will not create a serious construction delay. He said the company supplying the trusses has given the replacement of the damaged roof supports a high priority and delivery of the trusses is expected January 9.

The owner estimated the damage done by the wind at $40,000, although he noted that the insurance adjuster had yet to inspect the site (Thursday). Once an inspection is completed a firm estimate of the costs will likely be determined. The setback in construction time and progress on the building was more serious than the monetary loss at this point, he said.

The damage occurred to the roof support system over the retail sales area of the new store, which will be one of the largest of its kind in Canada. Trusses over an attached stock area and an adjacent lumber storage shed were not affected by the high winds.

Like so many dominoes knocked down by a child, the roof trusses for the new Home Hardware store in Minden lie bent and twisted on the ground. A high wind Tuesday night sent the roof supports crashing, setting back the construction schedule of the building.

Council, residents will 'thrash out' road issue

A delegation of residents from Highland Gate Estates and the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council will attempt to resolve a dispute over the paving of the roads in the subdivision. The council and residents agreed to the special meeting after a delegation approached the council Tuesday night at the regular session of the municipal body. About 20 citizens were on hand to hear the presentation.

The dispute between the council and the residents has been fuming for a number of years. The residents note they were unable to obtain a satisfactory resolution to their complaint in dealing with the previous council and expressed the hope the new council would be more willing to see their point of view.

The issue in question is whether the municipality will pave the streets in the subdivision. The original subdivision agreement between the developer, Roy Windover, and the township, signed in 1978, stated the township would not assume the roads in the subdivision until they had been brought up to Ministry of Transportation standards. A second undertaking between the township and the developer in 1982 indicated that the developer had met all the requirements. However, at the time the Ministry of Transportation refused to approve the road construction methods in the subdivision and would not approve their acquisition of the roads by the municipality under its subsidy agreement procedure. The township could assume the roads into the system but would be responsible for 100 per cent of the costs of maintaining them until they met the ministry's standards. Roads which qualify under the ministry program receive a subsidy of approximately 50 per cent for maintenance work.

To further complicate the issue, the township has undertaken maintenance responsibilities for the roads in the subdivision. According to road superintendent Clayton Cameron, the township spends close to $5,000 per year on grading, snowplowing and other maintenance of the roads.

Food basket drive a community effort

by Anne Hewitt

The five Minden churches have joined together to provide a Christmas dinner for those who would otherwise go without.

Ken Leonard of the Canadian Sunday School Mission worked with the churches to organize last week's Christmas food drive. The church advertised the event in their congregations and acted as drop-off centres. Hundreds of cans and dry goods were collected to help fill 37 food baskets for area residents. Clothing and toys were also donated.

Archie Stouffer Elementary School, Agnes Jamieson Gallery and the Legion also provided valuable drop-off points.

"The public school donation was a wonderful surprise," said Leonard. "We didn't know they were collecting food."

Baskets were given out on request from social workers, the families themselves, or people who know them.

"It was a community effort," said Leonard. "People were very co-operative and very generous."

Haliburton woman killed in two-car accident

Jessie Kathleen Way, 52, died last Wednesday night when her car plunged into the Gull River as a result of a two-car accident on Highway 118 in Guilford Township.

Minden OPP report that Way, of R.R. 1, Haliburton, was driving southbound on the highway at about 10 p.m. and was rounding a right-hand curve 400 metres north of County Road 7. Her car crossed over into the northbound lane, hitting the side of a car driven by Sheila Ziman, 39, of Haliburton.

After the two cars collided, Way's vehicle drove off the east side of the highway, into the Gull River and submerged.

Ziman was not injured in the accident. No charges have been laid. The investigating officer is Constable K.H. Wesley.

On the sick list are Bernice Shaw, Alice Rivers, Louella Yearwood, Holly Cooper and Elgin Stouffer, with good wishes to all.

Janice and Jack Shaw and family were visiting relatives and friends in Toronto.

Only one birthday at Hyland Crest early in January and that is on the 2nd for Hugh McEachern and good wishes to him on his special day.

In this busy world, I pray,
Grant me, please, O Lord,
each day,
Just some moments to be free,
To sit alone and just be me.
Let me express my thoughts in rhyme,
It's not a lot I ask, just time,
I ask you, Lord, to let me be
A little while, each day, just me.

Here is a recipe for living in the difficult New Year coming along so fast:

Take kindly thoughts with more to spare,
Add tact and patience - mix with care,
A dash of faith, and hope - a smile
To make it all seem so worthwhile,
And weigh upon the scales of life
The joy that cancels out the strife;
Resulting recipe is such - It costs so little - it means so much.

May I take this time to thank my many friends for their kindly messages with news for your weekly Times. If it weren't for you what would I do. All the best for you, my readers, for a very Happy New Year and health to go with it.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Friendships will endure

by Anne Hewitt

After eight years at the Anglican Parish of Minden, Rev. George Elliott is moving on.

He will be heading to King City, a community just south of Barrie, after his final service on January 8.

The announcement of his departure was met with shock and sadness by members of the congregations of St. Peter's, St. Paul's, and St. Stephen's as well as the community.

"It's breaking my heart!" said Gaye Coneybeare, part of the parish. "It will be hard to find someone to fill his shoes."

The Elliotts are also saddened to be leaving a community that they have grown fond of over the last eight years.

"There were tears on both sides," said George. "But the bottom line is I'm doing the right thing, and that's what you have to go on."

When they first arrived in Minden, two things greeted them - cold days, and warm hearts.

"On my first two Sundays it was 40 below when I got up. However, the kindness shown to us when we moved laid the foundation for many enduring friendships," George said.

Since those first cold days many things have happened to endear him to Minden and the people.

In his first year here, George began teaching religious education to the grade ones and twos at Archie Stouffer Elementary School.

Later he became the Regional Dean for the Diocese of Toronto. He acted as a liaison between the bishop, and the clergy in the seven parishes within the region.

"It has been a lot of extra work," he said. "You spend four hours on the road for a two-hour meeting. However, it has also been a privilege."

He also worked as the off-site chaplain for Mooreland Camp, and as the Assistant Director of a Parish Training Program, which allowed students to work at a church for three months.

George says one of his fondest memories of his time at the parish were the students who worked here, as part of the program.

"We have had five students in the eight years since I've been here," he said. "Each one has brought something very special."

He also remembers highlights in the history of the parish. In 1985 the Parish Hall at St. Paul's was demolished and a new one was built.

"It has turned out to be a wonderful facility," he said. 1985 also marked the 80th anniversary of St. Peter's Church.

Since their arrival in Minden, both Linda and George have also become actively involved in the community.

Linda has served on the CHACE Place Board of Directors and George has been involved in several organizations ranging anywhere from the Beavers to the Red Cross.

While they have enjoyed their time in Minden, George is equally sure their new parish will be another source of enjoyment.

"The people in King City are bending over backward to make us feel welcome," he said.

A replacement has not yet been found for George, and it is expected the process could take some time. A selection committee from the three churches will be interviewing people in the coming months. So far there has only been one interview.

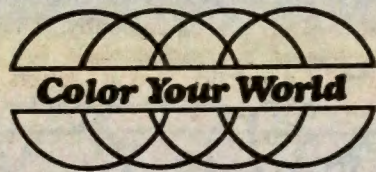

"It's going to be a slow process," said Coneybeare, who is also a member of the selection committee. "There has to be an interim period, or we would automatically compare the new person to George. The next person will have his own merits, and we will have to accept him based on those merits."

Even though he is leaving, some of George will still be in Minden, and part of Minden will be with him.

"Incumbents like me come and go," he said. "We each leave our mark and we each take with us a little piece of you."

In two weeks, Rev. George Elliott, will be leaving the Anglican Parish of Minden. He and his family will be moving to King City in the middle of January. His presence in the community will be missed.

Who will be the first?

Year after year, people are warned not to drive snowmobiles across frozen lakes. In spite of this advice, dozens of people plunge to their deaths when their sleds fall through a patch of thin ice.

Although it is just December and there is only a thin crust of ice on the lakes in the Highlands, we have already witness paths carved by foolish people riding their sleds on Twelve Mile Lake. Most of the tracks prudently stayed close to the shore where the ice is thickest and the water below is only a few feet deep. However, there was also a set of tracks running straight out onto the lake, a beckoning invitation for other snowmobilers to follow suit.

There is no doubt that more people will die again this winter in snowmobiling accidents. It is just a matter of time, before the first fatality of the snowmobiling season occurs. The only question remaining is whose name will be slotted into the annual news story. Who will be the first to die?

The beautiful thing about snowmobiling in the Highlands is that with a membership in the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association you can drive your sled for hundreds of miles without ever having to cross a lake. Play it safe this year. Stick to the trails and stay off the ice.

Happy New Year

The spirit of Councils Past

Shedding suet and adding muscle

"I have everything now that I had twenty years ago - except now it's all lower."

Ex-stripper Gypsy Rose Lee

I think it's safe to assume, without asking anyone to take his or her clothes off, that all of us gathered here have figures that are ummm, less than Greek?

Thought so. Well if it's any consolation, your Obedient Correspondent is unlikely to be taken for a lean, mean sex machine either. As a matter of fact this chassis of mine has got so many miles on it (not to mention dents and dings on the fenders) that it's owner doesn't entertain fantasies of transforming it into something sleek, speedy and admirable any more. I'm just happy the cops haven't ordered it off the road.

Which makes me odd man out these days. Everywhere I look, folks seem to be absolutely obsessed with the idea of shedding suet and putting on muscle. There's a Fitness Club on every block, the streets are littered with joggers and hikers and power walkers wearing agonized scowls and spandex tights. My television is infested with whole flotillas of happyface aerobics bimbos chanting and puffing to disco Muzak.

Oh well. It's better than robbing banks or doing drugs I guess.

But it's kind of depressing to think of all that unharnessed energy going to waste. Running around my block feels like it takes enough energy to provide hydroelectricity for some small Third World village. And where does all that energy go? Into my sweat-band.

Wouldn't it be nice if you could just order the body you want and devote all that exercise energy to useful pursuits such as raiding the refrigerator or lying on a river bank chewing grass and watching the river flow?

The science magazine Omni came up with the same concept recently. The editors asked several prominent sportsmen, entertainers and scientists what kind of body they'd like if they could trade theirs for a customized job.

The jocks they asked came up with fairly predictable requests. Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle, one of baseball's all time greats who was getting greater when his gimpy pins gave out under him, said he'd order the stainless steel knees option if he could. "Injury-free, I would have hit 700 home runs," says Mantle.

Tennis Dreadnaught Martina Navratilova said she'd like to have a "rotating waist". Something like the turret on a Leopard tank I suppose. Not a pretty thought.

But not everyone wanted to be turned into a bionic superperson. Designer Oleg Cassini said he'd love to change the colour of his skin - to every colour

While visions of sugarplums...

Apology requested

Editor:

I am writing in regard to a matter involving our children which took place in the K & A Restaurant on December 19, 1988.

Stacey Walker and Sarah Rochford were finished their Christmas shopping. Stacey was told by her mother to go to the K & A Restaurant, order pop and chips and ask if she could please use the phone to tell her mom to come and get them. Being the responsible children they are, they did just that, but to her surprise she was told by the owner that she could not use the phone. She was sent across the street to Beckers. While Stacey was gone Sara was left sitting.

While giving the girls their pop and chips they were asked, "Why are you sitting at a big booth?" Politely she answered that there were no little tables left. The girls were then told to finish quickly and get out of the restaurant. Not understanding why they had been told that, the girls finished and left.

By the time I arrived five minutes later the girls were at the door watching for me. Immediately after I was told what had happened, I went in for an explanation. All I got was "It's our busy lunch hour."

What is wrong with people today? All I can say is myself and a lot of other girls started our first jobs in restaurants. Remembering a wonderful lady Dorothy Moore who ran the Cameo Restaurant, I cannot recall once an episode happening there, and we the waitresses and Dorothy would never say that to any customer, let alone two nine-year-old girls.

We, the mothers of these girls, feel an apology from the owner of the K & A Restaurant is deeply needed to these children. If our children were rude to adults, they would be asked to do the same.

We'll be watching for it in the next issue.

Sincerely,

Sharon Walker and
Candy Rochford, Minden.

P.S. This article does not involve the K & A staff.

Magical entertainment bring spirit to the season

Editor:

On behalf of the Haliburton County Public Library, we would like to take this opportunity to publicly express our thanks to the various individuals and organizations in Minden who assisted in the best Minden Branch Christmas Party to date.

We would thank the staff and residents of Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home for their support. We hope that the combination of children and magical entertainment brought a little more spirit of the season to them.

We especially thank the Rotary Club of Minden for their support in making the whole program come together in such a way that its effect will not soon be forgotten.

Santa has also asked us to express his thanks to Bev Wood (Branch Supervisor) and the volunteer elf who helped him in distributing presents to the boys and girls and the residents of Hyland Crest.

Finally, we would thank the staff of The Times who so cheerfully help us to promote these programs and are thoroughly supportive of the library.

Again, to all involved, our thanks.

Joel Levis
County Librarian.

Pawluchs leave for Australia

by Anne Hewitt

An Archie Stouffer Elementary School teacher is taking advantage of a unique opportunity to learn while he teaches.

Nick Pawluch, his wife Lynda, and two children, Andrea and Tristan, left today for a one-year exchange to Australia. They are part of a program which allows teachers from around the world to experience working in another country. It also gives them an opportunity to learn about a new culture, and form of schooling.

"You have to be willing to learn," said Pawluch. "I'll be able to bring back fresh ideas, and make my participation in the school more dynamic."

Pawluch heard of the exchange opportunity at a Teacher's Association meeting in October 1987. After deciding "the worst they could do is say no" he filled out the mountains of paperwork, and cleared the idea with his principal and the Ministry of Education. In May he was told he had been accepted to the program and would be leaving for Australia in time to start teaching in the new year.

The Pawluchs will be moving to Queanbeyan, New South Wales. The city is about the size of Lindsay, nestled between two mountain ranges. It is only a short drive from the capital city of Canberra.

"Being so close to Canberra, we are within driving distance if we want to go to the theatre," he said. "It is easier than it would be to go to Toronto from here."

The Australian seasons are reversed, and at the moment the schools are closed for the summer holidays. The new year begins at the end of January. Pawluch will be part of a 30-member teaching staff at the public school in Queanbeyan. He will be teaching the Grade 5 class in a school that ranges from Kindergarten to Grade 6.

Pawluch says the school system is a little different in Australia, but he's not worried about the changes.

"The school system over there is more formal," he said. "They also place more emphasis on special education, and children with exceptional talent."

He is also not worried about not being familiar with Australian history and geography - two subjects he will have to teach.

"Teaching is teaching is teaching," he said. "I'll just have to do my homework and learn very quickly. I won't have a background knowledge of the subjects, but I'll be able to bring something new to them from my perspective."

The two exchanging teachers will leave each other extensive curriculum preparations, as well as exchanging houses and cars.

The Grade 5 teacher from Queanbeyan Public School, Peter Ellis, arrived in Minden on December 26. The Pawluchs met him at the airport in Toronto and drove him, his wife, and two children here before turning around and heading back for their flight.

There are two sponsors involved at both ends of the exchange: a community sponsor, and a school sponsor. Edward Moll will act as the community sponsor in Minden, and David McKinlay, a phys-ed teacher at Archie Stouffer will be the school sponsor.

"I'll act as a companion, and show him the ropes at school," said McKinlay. "I'll try to make him feel more comfortable."

The family is going to treat the trip as an adventure. They will be spending a week in Hawaii, and another week in Fiji on the way to Australia, and a week in Hong Kong on the way back. While in Australia they want to spend as much time travelling as they can.

"We want to do all the touristy stuff initially," said Pawluch. "We want to see the wildlife, scuba dive on the Great Barrier Reef, and climb Ayers Rock."

As for adjusting to the new culture - "when in Rome - do as the Romans."

Nick and Linda Pawluch and their two children, Tristan and Andrea, left today for Queanbeyan, Australia. They are taking part in a teacher exchange program.

4-H, highway safety, road reports

by John Eakins, MPP

My report to you this week includes a review of Ontario's 4-H program; highway safety research grants aimed at reducing accidents; and the winter road reporting service.

A review of Ontario's 4-H program; highway safety research grants aimed at reducing accidents and, the winter road reporting service.

A review of Ontario's 4-H program which makes recommendations for strengthening the program and attracting more members, was released recently by the Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Some of the key recommendations put forth by the review committee which was composed of 4-H leaders and ministry staff were:

- to include 10 and 11 year olds in the program.

- to elect an Ontario 4-H council and to expand membership in local 4-H associations to include non-leader volunteers, members their parents and sponsors.

- to organize a provincial campaign for revitalizing the image of 4-H in the rural community and to develop resources and workshops for local 4-H association.

The committee recommended that members of an elected Ontario council contribute to 4-H policy development, program planning and evaluation to ensure that program participants can make their changing needs known directly to the council. The report also recommended that the ministry's Rural Organizations and Services Branch, as a partner in the 4-H program, emphasize leadership training and resource development. OPP report

During the week of December 11 to 17, Minden OPP officers responded to 40 general occurrences and 12 traffic accidents.

OPP Ride

130 vehicles checked resulted in two impaired drivers charged.

Theft of wood

Two occurrences in the past week involved the theft of firewood. While not large amounts it is becoming an increasingly common occurrence. People are urged not to store cut firewood in isolated areas and to make note of licence numbers of unfamiliar vehicles seen loading wood.

Break and enter

A storage shed at a cottage on Kashagawig-amog Lake was broken into during the past few weeks. The thieves made off with a quantity of tools and fishing equipment.

Winter parking

Two occurrences involved cars parked in a manner which interfered with traffic. The winter cottage residents are again reminded that it is their responsibility to park their vehicles off the roadway. If a vehicle is left where it will interfere with either the movement of traffic or snow removal the owner is subject to both a fine and the tow bill.

Snow vehicle accident

Two snow vehicles travelling west on Watts Trail, Havelock Township collided with a four-wheel drive truck which was east-bound.

The truck was driven by Willy Vermeersch, age 46, of Oakville. The snow vehicles were operated by Brian Cowling age 19, of Georgetown and Yvan Gravelle also 19, of Norvall, Ontario.

Cowling was transferred from Haliburton Hospital by air ambulance with multiple injuries and Gravelle was treated and released from Haliburton Hospital.

The Stackhouse family really got into the Christmas spirit this year. The family captured two first prizes in the Minden BIA Christmas Decorating contest. They won for the best front door decoration and the best residential outdoor display. Seen here at the cheery entrance to their Highway 121 home are Bill and Kathy Stackhouse, with daughter Morgan and family pet Bandit.

BIA contest helps light up the village

The doors were decorated, windows painted, and the imitation Santas were set up on the lawns.

And now, after many nights of deliberation, the judges decisions have been made.

Once again the Minden BIA Christmas in the Village Decorating Contest was met with enthusiasm by local businesses and residents. The decorations helped to brighten up the community and bring out the Christmas spirit.

Gord Monk, one of the organizers said he was impressed with both the number and quality of the entries. He said the contest was an overall success again this year, and helped to enhance the festive feeling throughout the Minden area.

The winners are as follows:

Commercial indoor
1. The Something Shop;

2. Gambell's Antiques & Nostalgia; 3. Mabel's Cut & Curl.

Commercial Outdoor

1. Mabel's Cut & Curl; 2. Gambell's Antiques & Nostalgia; 3. Orange Grove Resort.

Residential Outdoor

1. Bill & Kathy Stackhouse; 2. Mary Heller; 3. Nancy Garbutt.

Residential Door Decoration

1. Bill and Kathy Stackhouse; 2. Maxine Snell; 3. Henry Webert.

50 years of caring

Determination and commitment are the keys to a successful marriage, says Bernard Wilhelm, who along with his wife, Helene, celebrated a 50th wedding anniversary on December 10.

Friends and relatives of the Snowdon Township couple threw a special party at the Gelert Community Centre that evening to help mark the very special occasion. Among the guests was Township Reeve Bob Vick, who presented Bernard and Helene with a plaque from Haliburton County. Other special presentations came from Victoria - Haliburton MP Bill Scott, MPP John Eakins, Ontario Premier David Peterson, and Prime Minister Brian Mulroney.

Preserving a marriage for half a century is no easy task, especially under the trying circumstances that the Wilhelms endured when they moved to Canada in 1941.

When Bernard immigrated to Canada from Germany, he came alone. And for two years, he worked on farms, lumber mills, cafeterias and logging camps before Helene was allowed to join him in Canada.

Throughout the two years he spent alone in Canada, Bernard said he never looked at another girl. He says he sewed all his wild oats before he met Helene and Bernard Wilhelm of Snowdon Township celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary with a party at the Gelert Community Centre December 10. Former township reeve Bob Vick presented the couple with a plaque from the County of Haliburton at the start of the party. Dozens of friends and relatives were in attendance to help the Wilhelms celebrate half a century of marriage.

Helene and has never since had any reason to look elsewhere.

Trust is very important in a relationship, he says. "I trust her and she trusts me. This is very important. You have to have trust."

For most of their lives in Canada, the Wilhelms lived in Toronto, where Bernard worked for a furniture company. It was not until 1967, when he retired, that they moved to their new home near Gelert.

Bernard said he learned of this area from a friend who was involved in real estate. He bought a piece of property, cleared the lot and built their new home all by himself.

"It's all two-by-six construction ... real two-by-six. I bought all undressed lumber from a local mill." The lumber is all bolted together and there is about 300 pounds of nails in the building.

Bernard said he built the house to last. He went about the construction with the same determination that he put into his marriage and the result is a solid home that will provide he and Helene with shelter for years to come.

Rockcliffe falls from glory

Just when it looked as though the Rockcliffe would skate away with a flawless record for the whole season, the skies have caved in on them.

In the past two weeks, the Rockcliffe has accepted defeat twice, most recently at the hands of Hartwick Construction, a team scratching its way out of the basement. Their first loss was at the hands of Halls Insurance, a team that now shares first place with the Rockcliffe.

The Rockcliffe's fall from glory isn't the only surprise that has taken place in the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League during the past two weeks. Hartwick, a team that seemed destined to control the basement for the entire season, has climbed all the way to fourth place with its two impressive wins.

In addition to their 7-4 win over the Rockcliffe, Hartwick clobbered The Times 10-3 on December 12.

The Times lost both of their games, as did Vasey Real Estate. Home Hardware won both of their games to hold onto the third place in the standings.

Halls 9, Rockcliffe 8

Hat-tricks off the sticks of Brian Shaw and Colin Wilson helped Halls finally put an end to the Rockcliffe's unbeaten streak in the opening game on December 12. Kevin Hamilton added two goals to Halls' tally while Dave Hartwick scored one.

Norman Barry and Dean Hewitt were the leading scorers for the Rockcliffe in this match with two each. Scott Hamilton, Jim Crawford, Tim George and Barry Vasey. Boice added one each.

Home 9, Vasey 6

The second game of the night saw Home defeat Vasey by a 9-6 margin with Lawrence Lougheed earning another hat-trick for the winners. Dave Rogers and Kim Collis scored two each for Home while Barry Ward and Gary Nelson scored one each.

Dennis McKee, Ken Berry and Tom Eager scored two goals each for

Hartwick 10, Times 3

The final game of the night saw Hartwick upset The Times by an easy 10-3 margin. Ted Vasey paved the way to the win with four goals while Sid MacKeigin added two. Singles were scored by Jim Keetch, Doug Rae, Bern Berry and Andy Campbell.

Dave Pettes was responsible for two of The Times goals while Irwin Asbel added the third.

Hartwick 7, Rockcliffe 4

On December 19, Hartwick pulled off their second straight upset. This time it was the league-leading Rockcliffe team that accepted the 7-4 defeat from the scrambling Hartwick club.

Sid MacKeigin led the way for the winners with three goals. Carl Northey and Jim Keetch added two each to the count.

Scott Hamilton again led the Rockcliffe with two goals, and is still the only player in the league to have scored at least one goal in every game. Norman Barry and Barry Boice scored one each for the Rockcliffe.

Home 10, Times 7

Another impressive game from Lawrence Lougheed helped Home tackle The Times 10-7 in the second game of the night. Lougheed scored four goals in this game. Gary Nelson scored two, while singles went to John McAdam, Cory Walker, Kim Collis and Dave Wheeler.

Craig Crowe and Irwin Asbel scored two each for The Times. Paul Walker, Merv Mintz and Dave Pettes each scored one.

Halls 9, Vasey 4

The final game of the night saw Halls continue their winning ways with a 9-4 victory over Vasey.

Dave Hartwick led the scoring with three. Bart Hilhorst and Kevin Hamilton scored two each for Halls. Dave Dollo and Rick Salmon each scored one.

Goal scorers for Vasey were Ivan Ingram, Dennis MacKee, Marshall Robinson and Tom Eager.

Minden shuts out Ops

submitted
On Saturday December 10, the Minden Monarchs Tri-County Novice 'C' Division hosted Ops for the opening game of their regular schedule. This was Minden's first game against Ops this year and our team was ready to go. Scoring opened after 1:15 into play with Chuck Hopkins putting Minden on the board with an assist from defenceman Wayne Kernohan.

Cameron Neville took care of the next three goals for a hat trick, assisted by Hopkins on one and Mitch Johnson for the next two with Kernohan on one. With a minute and 27 left in the third period, Hopkins scored the last goal giving Minden a score 5-0. The boys played well, along with super goal-tending from Minden's Shane Flood for his first shutout in this schedule. A return match was hosted by Ops December 17 with a little different scoring. Ops opened the game with the first goal one minute into play, but 36 seconds later, Neville returned the favour, assisted by Gavin Gartshore. Super playing by B.J. Redner gave Minden the next two goals with assists from Neville. The second period belonged to Minden with two goals scored by Hopkins and a third by Neville with an assist from Hopkins. One goal was scored in the third period by Steve Ecclestone from Neville with Minden coming home with a 7-1 win.

There were some outstanding goals scored in this game and this gives the boys a two nothing lead into their regular schedule.

In the preliminary schedule, they played seven games outscoring the opposition 51-1.

The Minden Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion lent a helping hand to the local Red Cross association recently with a donation to assist in stocking the medical equipment loan cupboard. Supplies from the cupboard are available to local residents. Jim Burton, left, president of the Minden Red Cross, accepted the donation from Branch 636 president Tony Samarillo. Also on hand for the presentation were, standing next to Mr. Burton, Aulis Orpana Legion First Vice President, Shirley Mitchell, chairman of the Red Cross Loan Cupboard Committee, and, on the right Legion second vice president, Dave McAdam.

CORRECTION

The incorrect statement in the Kitchen & Bath Shoppe ad in last week's edition indicated the store would be open Saturdays only after Christmas. The Times regrets any inconvenience caused by this error and regular store hours will apply.

Residents caught between developer and township

The residents are caught between the township and the developer in the agreement made ten years ago. According to resident's spokesman Doug Campbell, the agreements spell out the township's responsibilities in installing paved streets in the subdivision. He said the residents have obtained legal counsel advising them that the agreements are valid and that they have a case against the township for not fulfilling its portion of the agreements.

The previous council also requested legal advice on the issue. A member of that council and the present Deputy Reeve, Bern Berry, says the municipality has been advised by a lawyer that it is under no obligation to pave the subdivision roads. Some critics claim if the township were to go ahead and pave the road, they would be carrying out the work the developer should have been responsible for.

The cost of hard-topping the roads in the subdivision have been estimated at $42,000.

Resident's spokesman Doug Campbell told the meeting the residents were seeking a replay from the council concerning two questions: will the council support the 1982 by-law which indicates that all obligations of the developer have been fulfilled and; will the municipality pave the roads in 1989? He said the group wanted an answer by January 26, or they would take legal action.

He noted that the municipality is now maintaining the roads without the assistance of the provincial government. He said the responsible course would be to bring the roads into the municipal road system properly, so this provincial assistance would not be lost.

At an earlier meeting, the council had suggested the residents pay for half of the paving costs. This cost-sharing was rejected by the property owners. They pointed out that residents in other areas of the municipality are not asked to share directly in the cost of road improvements in front of their property.

Councillor Bob Sisson suggested that since the council had acquired three new members since the election, these individuals should be given an opportunity to examine what has taken place in the past before being asked to make a decision.

New Reeve Ray Moore pointed out that the issue had been unresolved by the two previous councils. He said he hoped this council would be able to come to a final conclusion to the problem. He suggested three members of the residents panel and the council "thrash out" the question, until both parties were happy with the solution.

"This is not a hostile council," the reeve concluded, "we're here to help you."

Hunters warned about trespass

Another hunting season is underway in Ontario and while this can be an enjoyable pastime for participants, it can be a major 'headache' for property owners. Hunters trespassing on private property is an ongoing problem around the province, but this year it seems to be particularly acute. During one recent weekend, 16 hunters were charged with trespassing by Belleville OPP, four others were charged by Napanee OPP, and two were given warnings by Brighton OPP.

Property owners have complained they fear for their safety, their livestock and their property.

Many hunters are new Canadians from large urban areas such as Toronto. They may not be aware the large, seemingly remote, rural areas in which they're hunting are actually private properties and that they're contravening the Trespass to Property Act.

President of the Rotary Club of Minden, Peter Bennett, right, presents Jim Burton, president of the Minden Branch of the Ontario Red Cross Association, with a cheque for $2000. The money was donated to assist the Red Cross in purchasing equipment for their loan cupboard. Medical supplies such as wheel chairs, crutches and other appliances are available to local residents for short term use at modest or no charge basis. Chairman of the Red Cross Loan Cupboard Committee, Shirley Mitchell was also on hand for the presentation.

A new lease on life

by Anne Hewitt

A fatal car crash has saved the life of a Minden man.

Les Northey had been waiting for two months for a suitable liver donor when he was informed his transplant would be possible because of the accident.

"I had resigned myself to dying? I was going downhill so fast," he said. "I couldn't believe there was a donor. It was really making the best out of two bad situations."

The problems with his liver began in 1974 after an accident at his job with the hydro. He slipped on the pole he was climbing and his belt jammed into his diaphragm, blocking his bile duct. He had two operations within two years to clear the duct.

"Bile would back up into my liver and enter my bloodstream instead of my intestines," he said. "It was poisoning my system."

The veins in his oesophagus would bleed and haemorrhage because his liver couldn't handle the blood flow.

In 1985 Les had to have a liver shunt operation. The procedure allowed one quarter of the blood that normally flowed through his liver to bypass it.

"The operation relieved the pressure on the liver," said his wife Audrey. "It didn't solve the long-term problem."

Eventually his symptoms worsened. His kidneys slowed down, he was tired, had trouble thinking, and his skin became itchy and yellow. He was diagnosed as having cirrhosis of the liver - scar tissue had formed after his numerous infections and hemorrhages.

"My liver got like an old boot," he said.

In May he was admitted to Toronto General Hospital. Doctors felt he was not well enough to remain unsupervised. While he was in the hospital he came in and out of three comas, and was told he needed a transplant.

"I had nothing to lose by having a transplant," Les said. "I had to take a chance."

Les was put on an organ program during the summer. He and Audrey were shown a slide presentation on what was going to happen, and were given a tour of the Intensive Care Unit.

"My liver got like an old boot"

"Nothing was a big surprise when I woke up in the recovery room," said Les. "I had tubes sticking into me from all directions, but I had been prepared for it."

Initially the doctors felt Les only had a 50 per cent chance of coming through the operation, but by the end of September when the process began, the doctors had increased his chances to 75 per cent.

After learning of the donor, part of the seven-person medical transplant team rushed to St. Michael's Hospital to remove the needed organ and place it in a cooler with an iced solution to preserve it. The rest of the team then began the operation that would end more than 13 hours later.

So far there have been no complications with the transplant. However, Les will have to take cyclosporin - an anti-rejection drug - for the rest of his life.

"He's been through one big hurdle," said Audrey. "But anything can happen."

"It's like old home week at the clinic," said Audrey. "That kind of support is so important."

The medical team is about to perform its 100th operation since the first liver transplant in 1985.

Now that Les is back at home he has to go to a clinic in Toronto for a weekly check-up. After three months this decreases to a bi-monthly visit, and eventually a yearly check-up.

The clinic also serves as a support group for the patients. People who are waiting for a transplant can get reassurance from those who have already had the operation.

Minden resident Les Northey is home after a liver transplant operation at Toronto General Hospital this fall. He and his wife Audrey, were impressed with the level of professionalism displayed by the transplant team throughout the ordeal.

A boost for 4-H program

being studied by the ministry and plans for implementation will be announced in the near future.

The Minister of Agriculture and Food will hold a meeting with presidents of local 4-H leaders' associations in January to ensure that input is gathered from all parts of the province on this report.

Many of the recommendations were based on a consultant's study of the 4-H program, which involved a survey of club leaders, members' parents and non-smokers' parents. It addressed the issue of declining enrolment in 4-H in Ontario and the program's image.

Recommendations also considered increasing requests by program leaders for greater involvement in policy and decision making.

This is the 75th year of 4-H in Canada. Over the years, the emphasis of the youth group have evolved from the development of agricultural produce to the development of the youth.

There are currently about 17,000 4-H members and 3,600 4-H leaders in Ontario. Starting next year, $100,000 a year will be made available through the Ministry of Transportation for grants to support research on highway safety. With traffic accidents increasing in Ontario, it is important to encourage research on highway safety in order to understand, and hopefully reduce the incidence of avoidable collisions.

Hospital committee examines health needs

submitted

The Board of Trustees of St. Joseph's Hospital, which owns and operates the Minden Hospital, in co-operation with Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home, operated by the County of Haliburton, has proposed that a study be undertaken to examine the health and social needs in the area served by these two institutions. Among other objectives, the study will examine projections about future needs and propose how these needs can be best met by the hospital, the home for the aged and other social agencies serving this area. The study is being co-ordinated by an ad hoc committee on hospital services in Minden. The committee has been meeting since September. At the committee's last meeting held December 14, a number of items were dealt with.

First of all, the request for proposal which will be sent to a selected list of twelve consultants was reviewed and passed. The purpose of the study, as outlined in the proposal, is to gain an appreciation of the health and social service needs of the area, required for development and initiation of a strategic plan for the hospital and Hyland Crest, and to provide related agencies (eg. Haliburton County Home Support) with information pertinent to their program planning.

In general, the proposed study will examine the present health and social needs of the people served by the Minden Hospital and Hyland Crest, make projections about future needs and propose recommendations about how these needs can best be met by the Hospital, Hyland Crest, Home Support and other agencies.

Finally, the committee received the unconditional support of the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Council to proceed with this landmark study involving both the Ministry of Health, and the Ministry of Community and Social Services.

At the last meeting of the committee, it was agreed, that we would attempt to keep area residents informed on a regular basis with releases such as this. Should you have any concerns or questions, you can contact Committee chairman and hospital representative Bill Kulas, or Committee member and Hyland Crest Administrator Dwight Morley, or send your letters to the Health and Social Needs Committee, c/o The Times.

Bird count shows increases

by Ron Pittaway

Minden's 22nd annual Christmas bird count was held in fine early-winter weather Saturday, December 17. Fourteen observers working in five separate areas located 36 species and 3,190 individual birds.

One party counting waterfowl canoed the Gull River from the bridge over Highway 35 in Minden to Gull Lake.

Sponsored by the National Audubon Society, it is expected there will be 1,500 Christmas bird counts held this year throughout Canada and the U.S. These yearly censuses are published by the Audubon Society and contribute much to our scientific knowledge of winter bird populations and distribution.

New to the all-time count this year was an American Robin observed in a crab apple tree in Minden. Robins are hardy and this one should survive the winter if it can find food.

There was a new high count of 62 Ruffed Grouse, the previous high was 36 in 1974. The three Northern Goshawks counted probably reflect the high grouse numbers, the goshawk's favourite prey.

Black-capped Chickadees abounded at 1,591, the previous high was 1,193 last year.

Anyone with a bird feeder has likely noted the abundance of chickadees this winter. At feeding stations, chickadees prefer sunflower seeds.

The 146 Tree Sparrows eclipsed the previous high of 139 in 1974.

Blue Jays at 276, were also numerous; many were at feeders offering sunflower seeds. Downy Woodpeckers were in record numbers at 43 while the 59 Hairy Woodpeckers were well above average. Both these woodpeckers relish suet fat, ask your butcher for a big chunk and hang it in an onion bag.

A total of 102 waterfowl representing seven species and one hybrid was recorded. Among them were a Canada Goose, all three Merganser species and two Mallard Cross Black Duck Hybrids.

Other highlights included a lingering Great Blue heron standing on a frozen pond near Highway 35 south of Minden. Ravens greatly outnumbered crows 136 to 6 (four in Minden and two in Kinmount) so if you see a large crow-like bird away from Minden or Kinmount it is very likely a raven.

I plan to write an article in a future issue of this paper on how to tell a raven from a crow.

Species usually present but missed on this year's count were Belted Kingfisher, Golden-crowned Kinglet and Dark-eyed Junco. A Bald Eagle observed the week before the count at Gull Lake was also missed. Winter finches were notably absent except for Evening Grosbeaks at 287 (below the five-year average), American Goldfinch at 52 and the six Pine Grosbeaks which were considered unusual this year.

Often present, but unrecorded this year were redpolls, siskins, crossbills and purple finches. The lack of these winter finches appears to be related to the locally poor natural food crops especially cones (except spruce) and birch seed. Reports from northern Ontario of an excellent cone crop suggest the finches are there. Perhaps a few will trickle south in late winter as they usually do to visit feeding stations here.

After the count, the participants gathered at the home of Pearl Barry for supper and to tabulate the results. They were: Dennis Barry (compiler);

Karen Barry; Tim Barry; Anne Brander; Margaret Carney; Bruno Kern; Cathy Kurylo; Todd Norris; Bill Nutter; Ron Pittaway; Ed Powpat; Doug Tozer; Ron Tozer and Jim Wilson.

Thanks to all those who phoned in reports of birds at their feeders. Feel free to call me at 286-3471 if you have any questions about the bird count, feeding birds, or birds in general.

The following is a complete list of species and numbers observed on count day.

Great Blue Heron 1, Canada Goose 1, American Black Duck 17, Mallard 30, Mallard x Black Duck 2, Common Goldeneye 15, Hooded Merganser 2, Common Merganser 34, Red-breasted Merganser 1, Sharp-shinned Hawk 1, Northern Goshawk 3, Ruffed Grouse 62, Rock Dove 19, Mourning Dove 1, Great Horned Owl 2, Barred Owl 2, Downy Woodpecker 43, Hairy Woodpecker 59, Pileated Woodpecker 5, Gray Jay 2, Blue Jay 276, American Crow 6, Common Raven 136, Black-capped Chickadees 1591, Red-breasted Nuthatch 29, White-breasted Nuthatch 55, Brown Creeper 2, American Robin 1, Northern Shrike 1, European Starling 26, American Tree Sparrow 146, Snow Bunting 161, Common Grackle 3, Pine Grosbeak

6, American Goldfinch 52, Evening Grosbeak 287, House Sparrow 110. Total species: 36 (plus one hybrid)

Total individuals: 3,190

monies; catering; many Christmas dinners supplied by our ever cheerful labouring kitchen crew; volunteer bar stewards; and last, our first children's Christmas Party (special thanks to Santa's helpers Kirsty, Roderick and Shona.)

Coming up in the New Year - donations from our Branch to the community.

The President, Executive and Members extend sincere wishes for your health and happiness over the season and especially thinking of those not feeling their best. To all our hard-working volunteers, without you none of the preceding would be possible at all.

Next general meeting: Wednesday, January 4, 7:30 p.m. sharp.

Put your mind in gear

According to a Ministry of Transportation spokesperson, the safest drivers this winter will be "thinking drivers", the ones with their "minds in gear" for winter highway and road conditions.

He lists six essentials for safe winter driving:

Think Safety - Avoid abrupt acceleration, braking, or lane changes that can cause skids on slippery roads.

Anticipate - Look ahead

as far as possible. Try to anticipate stop signs, traffic signals or traffic ahead.

Slow Down - Reduce your speed in less than ideal conditions or slushy, snow covered or icy winter roads.

Keep your distance - Increase the distance between you and the car ahead by three to four times to leave a buffer zone for safe braking.

Use your lights - Turn your headlights on in bad weather conditions as well as on dark winter days to make your vehicle visible to other drivers.

Don't rush - Allow an extra 15 minutes to drive to work, to go shopping, or to arrive at social gatherings. Check the weather forecast before you leave.

"With some forethought, common sense and a bit of courtesy all drivers can increase their margin of safety. Doing so will make it safer for all road users this winter," the official said.
